

BARRENGOS,
DONALD FRANK

JB 2-12-03

BARRENGOS,
Donald Frank

February 7, 2003. The Loving Life Partner of Dr. Anthony G. B. Rocchio, Jr. Father of Ann Broderick, Julie Gebler, Andrew and John Barrengos. Grandfather of 8. Loving friends of Joseph and Virginia DiSanto and their children Michael and Katherine. Residence: Hope St., Providence and Cook St., Provincetown. Relatives and friends are invited to attend a Service of Remembrance Friday, February 14 at 11:00 a.m. in the First Baptist Church in America, 75 North Main St., Providence. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to The Peter M. Black, M.D. Neurosurgical Fund, c/o Brigham & Women's Hospital, 75 Francis St., Boston, MA 02115. To sign the online guest book visit pmfunerals.com Arrangements by PONTARELLI-MARINO.

DONALD FRANK BARRENGOS, 70, of Hope Street, and also of Cook Street, in Provincetown, Mass., a philanthropist and the founder of the Kane Barrengos Charitable Foundation, died Friday at Brigham & Women's Hospital, in Boston.

He was the life partner of Dr. Anthony G.B. Rocchio Jr., with whom he lived. Born in New York City, a son of the late Herman and Rachael (Se-monoff) Barrengos, he was a lifelong resident of Providence, and had been a seasonal resident of Provincetown for 20 years.

A 1949 graduate of Hope High School, he was a 1953 graduate of Harvard College, and also had attended Harvard Business School. He was a member of the Harvard Club.

Mr. Barrengos was the president and founder of the Kane Barrengos Charitable Foundation.

He was a former trustee of Miriam Hospital, a vice president and director of the Jewish Home for the Aged of Rhode Island, and a director of the Jewish Foundation of Rhode Island.

Besides his life partner, he leaves two sons, Andrew Barrengos of San Francisco, Calif., and John Barrengos of New York City; two daughters, Ann Broderick in Maine and Julie Gebler of Warwick; and eight grandchildren. He was the brother of the late Robert Barrengos.

A service of remembrance will be conducted on Friday at 11 a.m. in the First Baptist Church in America, 75 North Main St. Burial will be in Swan Point Cemetery.