

8-28-1968

BAZAR, Arthur
 August 28, 1968. Beloved husband of Anna (Charves) Bazar. Residence, 137 Concord Ave., Cranston. Funeral service 1 p.m. Thursday at the Max Sugarman Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope St. Relatives and friends invited. In lieu of flowers contributions may be made to your favorite charity. Memorial week will be observed at his late residence, 2-4; 7-9 p.m. daily.

Arthur J. Bazar

Former Owner of Abco, Fraternal Leader, Dies

Arthur J. Bazar, 51, of 137 Concord Ave., Cranston, former proprietor of the Abco Glass Company on Broadway, died yesterday at the Veterans Administration Hospital. He was the husband of Anna (Charves) Bazar.

He was born in Providence, a son of Mrs. Rose (Nuddelman) Bazar of Providence and the late David Bazar. He had been a resident of Cranston for 16 years, and previously lived in Providence for 35 years.

Mr. Bazar was a sales representative for the Standard Glass Company of Providence for the last three years. He was the proprietor of Abco Glass Company from 1948 to 1965.

Mr. Bazar was an Army veteran of World War II. He served in Germany.

He was chancellor commander of Cranston Lodge No. 4, Knights of Pythias, and was chosen by that organization as Man of the Year in 1965. He was a past Royal Vizier, El Karum Temple No. 45, D.O.K.K. He sang with the Temple Emanu-El choir for the last 30 years.

He was a member of the Jewish War Veterans and past commander of the Lt. Leonard Bloom Post, and of the United Veterans Council of Rhode Island. He was active in many civic and charitable organizations.

Besides his wife and mother, he is survived by two sons, David Bazar and Kenneth Bazar; a daughter, Mrs. Bernard Bush; a brother, Col. Clarence M. Bazar, and a sister, Mrs. Sidney Altman, all of Cranston.

A funeral service will be held today at 1 p.m. at the Max Sugarman Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope St. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.