

Herman Bennett's Mother, 80, Follows Son in Death

Mrs. Anna (Epstein) Bennett, 80, who lives with a daughter, Mrs. Harry Cline, at 4 Still Street, Brookline, Mass., heard the news yesterday shortly after she was told of the death of her son, Herman L. Bennett, Providence auto dealer.

It was the fourth death in the family within recent weeks. Last Friday Mr. Bennett's father-in-law, Charles Silverman, 74, died and a few weeks ago his brother, Maurice Bennett, 55, died in Miami Beach, Fla.

Herman Bennett, 51, of 141 Cole Avenue, was discussing details of remodelling a house he had bought on Elmgrove Avenue when he had a heart attack. He was dead on arrival at Miriam Hospital.

Shortly afterward his mother,

She was examined by a son, Dr. Theodore Bennett of Boston, who ordered her to Beth Israel Hospital. She died shortly after her arrival there.

She was the daughter of the late Rabbi Harris Epstein, of Temple Kehelleth Israel in Boston. She was active in the Hadassah and the Women's Auxiliary of Brandeis University.

Mr. Bennett was president-treas-
