BIANCA A. BERNSTEIN-DELAHUNT, 81, of Blackstone Boulevard, a retired professor of business education, died yesterday at Philip Hultar Inpatient Center.

She was the wife of Donald A. Delahunt, and the late Perry Bernstein. Born in Providence, a daughter of the late Christopher and Angelina (Pierotti) Carella, she had lived in Providence since 1995, previously living in Warwick.

Mrs. Bernstein-Delahunt was an associate professor in business education at Bryant College from 1967 to 1984. In the 1970s, she volunteered to teach job training to minority women at Bryant for the Opportunities Industrialization Center.

She received her bachelor's degree in business education at Bryant, where she received the Outstanding Student Teacher Award and was a member of the Key Honor Society. She earned her master's degree in education at Boston University.

Mrs. Bernstein-Delahunt was a member of the Boston chapter of the Delta Pi Epsilon Honorary Business Teachers Society and listed in the World Who's Who of Women in Education, 1978.

She was a member of the Handicraft Club, the Metropolitan Opera Guild, in New York, the Boston Symphony Orchestra, the Rhode Island Philharmonic Orchestra, and the Rhode Island School of Design Museum.

Besides her husband, she leaves a son, Perry F. Bernstein of Cumberland; and two granddaughters. She was the sister of the late Carmen Carella, Diane Besser and Vera D'Agiano.

A memorial service will be held tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the chapel of Swan Point Cemetery.
