

of Pawtucket, died Jan. 11, 1980, and her late husband, Jerome C. Berry, retired to Coconut Creek, Fla., 15 years ago.

After serving in World War II as a First Lieutenant, Army Nurse Corps, in the European Theater, 98th General Hospital, she moved from Scranton, Pa., to Providence, where she worked as a nurse at the Miriam Hospital and Standard Romper. After raising a family, she returned to her nursing career, working at the Scandinavian Home for the Aged until her retirement.

While living in Rhode Island, she was a member of Temple Emanu-El, its Sisterhood, UJA, B'nai B'rith, as well as Crestwood Country Club. She was a past president, treasurer and life member of Hadassah.

She continued her involvement in charity work upon her retirement. She was an active member in The Township Chapter of Hadassah, Papanicolaou Cancer Unit, B'nai B'rith and twice president of the Women's Club of Applewood I Village.

She leaves her son, Richard, of Atlanta; her daughter, Maxine and son-in-law, Anthony Cicerone of Natick, Mass.

Burial services were held in Florida. Donations in Roslyn Berry's memory may be made to Hadassah: c/o Berry, 18 Russell Circle, Natick, Mass. 01760.

Funeral arrangements were made by Brezniak-Rodman, Newton, Mass. ✓

---