

OBITUARY

The Evening Bulletin, Tuesday, December 6, 1977

Lewis J. Blumenthal

WARWICK — Lewis J. Blumenthal, 79, of 275 Easton Ave., died Sunday in the Summit Medical Center after a one-year illness. He was the husband of the late Sally (Feldman) Blumenthal.

Mr. Blumenthal owned Commercial Press, Providence, for 50 years, and retired in 1974.

He was a member of Temple Beth Am. He was a board member of the Chased Schel Emess Association and past president of the Providence Hebrew Free Loan Association. He also was a member of the Providence Jewish Fraternal Organization; a member of the Redwood Lodge, AF & AM, the Scottish Rite, Palestine Temple, and past president of the Trowel Club. He was also a member of the National League of Masonic Clubs, which honored him as Man of the Year in 1975.

Born Oct. 17, 1898, in Providence, he was a son of the late Philip W. and Rose (Sass) Blumenthal. He moved from Providence to Warwick 20 years ago.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Elaine Silverman of Providence and Mrs. Irma L. Krasner of Warwick; a brother, Herman Blumenthal of Warwick; three sisters, Mrs. Marion Brown of Pawtucket, Mrs. Belle Klasky of Swamscott, Mass., and Mrs. Esta Lipson of Cranston, and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services were held yesterday in Sugarman Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope St., Providence, with burial in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.

BLUMENTHAL, LEWIS J.