

BRAUDE,
Pearl

PEARL BRAUDE, 77, of 93 Arlington Ave., who helped inspire the architectural and artistic design of Temple Beth-El on the East Side, died yesterday at the Roger Williams Medical Center. She was the widow of Rabbi William G. Braude, who served as rabbi of the Temple Beth-El from 1932 until retirement in 1974, and then as rabbi-emeritus until his death.

Born in Providence, she was a daughter of the late Joseph M. and Rose (Levy) Finkelstein.

She was a 1939 graduate of Pembroke College, now Brown University, and later received a master's degree from Brown University. She taught art and dance in Providence for several years.

She was a member of Temple Beth-El and its Sisterhood. She was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Hadassah, the Rhode Island Jewish Historical Society, the Providence Athenaeum, the Friends of Bezael Museum, the Friends of Israel Museum, and the Friends of the Rhode Island School of Design Museum.

Mrs. Braude leaves three sons, Joel I. Braude of Providence and New York, Benjamin M. Braude of Northampton, Mass., Daniel Braude of Newton, Mass.; a brother, Aaron Archie Finkelstein of Florida; a sister, Marion Mirman of Providence and Florida and four grandchildren.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at 1 p.m. at Temple Beth-El, Orchard Avenue. Burial will be in Sons of Israel and David Cemetery.
