

Frederic S. Brunschwig

PROVIDENCE — Frederic Samuel Brunschwig, 58, of 702 Elmgrove Ave., an ultrasonic physicist for the University of Illinois three years and Boeing Aircraft, Seattle, Wash., for 10 years before illness forced his retirement in 1968, died Monday at Miriam Hospital. He was the husband of Doris (Cordts) Brunschwig.

Born in Providence, a son of Caroline (Friend) Brunschwig of Providence and the late Pierre Brunschwig, he had lived in the city most of his life. He had previously lived in Connecticut for several years.

He was a 1950 graduate of Yale University and earned his master's degree at Brown University four years later.

He served in the Navy from 1945 to 1946 and was an Army veteran of the Korean War.

He was a member of the Acoustical Society of America and a volunteer fireman at Vashon Island, Wash. He was a published researcher in ultrasonic brain surgery at the University of Illinois and was also a published researcher at Boeing Aircraft.

Besides his wife and mother he leaves three sons, Jean-Gar Brunschwig of Boulder City, Nev., Pierre Brunschwig of Boulder, Colo. and Joseph Brunschwig of Old Saybrook, Conn.; a daughter, Anna Keturah Brunschwig of Fort Collins, Colo.

The funeral and burial will be private.
