

BUCHEISTER,
Henry

PST Cranston
11-30-1997

HENRY C. BUCHEISTER, 73, of 89 Wheeler Ave., a mechanical engineer and owner of International Stamping Co., Warwick, for more than 20 years, and a prisoner during the Holocaust, died yesterday at home. He was the husband of Ruth (Felgener) Bucheister.

Born in Poland, he was a son of the late Kalman and Rachel (Zwickler) Bucheister.

During the Holocaust, he and his father escaped from a concentration camp and hid in canals for almost two years. His brother brought them food and supplies during this time. His brother and father were later captured and shot in front of him. He was able to escape to the Russian and Polish armies.

After World War II, he joined the Israeli army before coming to the United States. He was a member of Congregation Shaare Zedek, the CHAI Center of Warwick, Providence Hebrew Day School, the Academy of Torah and the Chabad Center.

Besides his wife, he leaves a daughter, Rachel Bucheister of Coventry; a brother, Eli Bucheister of North Miami, Fla.; two grandchildren and a great-granddaughter. He was a brother of the late Abraham Samuel Bucheister.

The funeral will be held today at 2:30 p.m. in Congregation Shaare Zedek, 688 Broad St., Providence. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Post Road, Warwick.
