

CHANDLER, ANN JUDITH

Ann Judith Chandler

BERKELEY, Calif. - Ann Chandler died Nov. 17.

She leaves her children Dr. David Eli Fish and Michael Paul Fish, her daughter-in-law Ami Fitch, her grandchildren Maalik and Noah Fish, her sisters Elaine Hoffman and Nada Chandler and her brother Dr. Joseph Chandler and many other relatives and friends.

She was dedicated to public health issues, particularly for the elderly and those with HIV/AIDS.

Born in Bath, Maine on Aug. 6, 1941 to the late Irving and Marcia Libby (Petlock) Chandler, she graduated Classical High School in 1959. She attended URI, majoring in biology, and was a member of Sigma Delta Tau. She married Dr. Richard Fish in 1962 and transferred to the University of New Hampshire, graduating the following year.

She earned a graduate degree in public health from Cal-Hayward in the mid-1980s. The director of the public health laboratory of Alameda County for 25 years, she later worked for the California Department of Public Health.

She served on the Berkeley City Council from 1984 -1992, and was an active member of many organizations.

Donations may be made to the PD Active Group or the Berkeley Public Library. A celebration of her life is being organized for January 2013.
