SAMUEL DICK

Funeral services were held last Sunday morning from the Max Sugarman Funeral Home for Samuel Dick of 54 Adelaide avenue, who died suddenly after a brief illness at the St. Joseph's Hospital. Rabbi Morris Schussheim officiated and Cantor Joseph Schlossberg sang. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery. Albert Weiner, Abe Abrams, Samuel Bomes, Thomas Uffer, Jake Oransky, Samuel Einstein and Harry Sherman were pall bearers.

Mr. Dick, who had come to the United States in 1902, and to Providence in 1910, was born in Russia in 1879, the son of Max and Esther Dick. He operated and owned the Canadian Fur Trading Co. and Sam Dick's Fur Shop on Westminster street.

He was active in many charitable organizations, being a member of Bichar Cholom Lodge, I. O. B. A., Providence Lodge, B. P. O. Elks, No. 14, the Jewish Home for the Aged, the Hebrew Free Loan Association, and many others.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Rose Dick, two daughters, Miss Lillian Dick and Mrs. Sylvia Abrams, and a son, E. Harold Dick.
