

July 20, 1956
The Providence Journal

Morris Feinberg

Ex-Head of Candy Mart, 81,
Dies After Long Illness

Morris Feinberg, 81, of 21 Creighton St., former president of the Candy Mart, died yesterday morning in his home after a long illness. He was the husband of Esther (Sugner) Feinberg.

Born in Lithuania, Feb. 15, 1875, a son of the late Rabbi Solomon and Toby Leali (Jersky) Feinberg, he had been a resident of Providence for 75 years.

Mr. Feinberg was president of the Congregation Sons of Zion for 25 years, a member of the board of the Jewish Home for the Aged and the Jewish Family Welfare, an organizer of the Chessed Shel Ames Association and a past president of the Vaad Hakashrutim. He was active in the Zionist Organization of America, the General Jewish Committee of Providence, the Hebrew Sheltering Association, the Jewish Community Center, the Mazrachi, the Society of Friends, of Tours Synagogue and the Hebrew Free Loan Association, and many other charitable organizations.

Besides his widow, he leaves four sons, Carl D., Norman L. and Dr. Benjamin Feinberg, all of Providence, and Dr. Gerald G. Feinberg of Newport; a sister, Mrs. Sarah Grossman, and a brother, Benjamin H. Feinberg, both of Providence. And eight grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held today at 1 p.m. in Temple Emanuel. After the services at the temple, the funeral procession will stop at the Congregation Sons of Zion, Cross Street. Burial will be at Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.

Memorial services will be at his residence.

FEINBERG, Mrs. D. Morris, head of Esther (Sugner) Feinberg, passed away at her home, 21 Creighton St., Providence, R.I., after a long illness. She was 81 years old. Her husband, Morris Feinberg, died yesterday morning. The family is at the residence, 21 Creighton St., Providence, R.I., and friends are invited to call. Omit flowers.