

FOX, MAURICE

PJB 12-4-03

MAURICE FOX, 93, of Galt Ocean Drive, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., formerly of Providence, a retired financial consultant, died Monday at home.

He was the husband of Shirley (Cohen) Fox. They had been married for 57 years. Born in Providence, a son of the late Joseph and Rachel (Kaufman) Fox, he had lived in Providence before moving to Florida in 1972.

Mr. Fox was a member of the board of directors at the former Interstate Home Equipment Co., the Poole Silver Co., Taunton, Mass., the Colony Motor Hotel, and the former Attantic Bowling Corp.

He was also a board member and past president of the Wayland Manor Hotel.

Mr. Fox had been a board member and former chairman of the finance committee at the former Jewish Home for the Aged. He had been a board member at Miriam Hospital and the Ledgemont Country Club, a member of the Rhode Island Jewish Fraternal Association, and a former member of Temple Emanuel, where he had served on the board of directors.

Mr. Fox was a 1932 graduate of Boston University.

Besides his wife, he leaves two sons, David S. Fox of Andover, Mass., and Richard S. Fox of Longmeadow, Mass.; two daughters, Patricia E. Fox of New York City and Debra L. Fox of Waltham, Mass.; and four grandchildren. He was the brother of the late Esther and Harold Fox.

The funeral service will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. in the Samuel Priest Chapel of Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.