

Dr. Friedman Dies; Headed Dental Units

Dr. Bernard C. Friedman, 71, of 19 Almy St., Newport, a former president of the Rhode Island Dental Society and a founder of the Society of Friends of Touro Synagogue in Newport, died yesterday morning at Newport Hospital after suffering a heart attack at his home Friday night.

Dr. Friedman was born in Dvinsk, Russia, on July 4, 1899, a son of the late Rev. Nathan Friedman and Dora Friedman. His father was cantor of Touro Synagogue for many years.

Dr. Friedman, who had lived in Newport since 1910, began practicing dentistry in the city in 1924, after his graduation from Tufts Dental College in 1923. He was a past secretary as well as president of the Newport Dental Society.

He served as president of the Touro Synagogue from 1946 to 1948. In 1946, after the designation of the Synagogue as a national historic site, he was instrumental in founding the Society of Friends of the Synagogue.

He was president of the society from its founding until 1962, when he was elected president Emeritus.

Dr. Friedman was also a past president of Judah Touro Lodge of B'nai B'rith and the Order of B'rith Sholom. He was chairman of the Newport Jewish Welfare Board of the U.S.O. from 1940 to 1954, as well as a member of the Newport Rotary Club, R.I. Lodge No. 12 of the Odd Fellows and the American Jewish Committee.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Ada (Applebaum) Friedman; a son, Dr. Charles M. Friedman of Hollywood, Fla.; a daughter, Mrs. Marvin Friedman of Palos Verdes, Calif., and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at noon at the Hoffman Jewish Memorial Chapel, 11 Fowler Ave., Newport. Burial arrangements are incomplete.
