Pawtucket

HERMAN GELLER, 77, of Martin Street, a retired food-market proprietor and meat cutter, died yesterday at Memorial Hospital of Rhode Island.

He was the husband of Helen (Beeman) Geller. They had been married for 53 years. Born in Malden, Mass., a son of the late Samuel and Rose (Myers) Geller, he had lived in Boston before moving to Pawtucket.

Mr. Geller had been the proprietor of the former Mineral Spring Avenue Food Market, and a meat cutter at several other markets before retiring. He had later worked briefly as a salesman for Addressagraph Multigraph before returning to work as a meat cutter for the former Dedora's, Grand Central, Chellel's and Spigels Markets before retiring.

He was an Army veteran of World War II.

He was a member of Jewish War Veterans, Congregation Ohawe Shalom and its Men's Club, the Pawtucket Hebrew Free Loan Association, and Jenks Lodge 24, Masonic Temple.

Besides his wife, he leaves two sons, Samuel S. Geller of Wrentham, Mass., and Jan B. Geller of New York City, and four grandchildren. He was the brother of the late Ann Gabrilowitz.

The funeral service will be held today at 11 a.m. in Sugarman-Sinai Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope St., Providence. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.
