HARRIS GINSBERG, 68, of 26 Vista Drive, a self-employed printing broker, died yesterday at the Philip Hulitar Inpatient Hospice Center. He was the husband of Helen (Margolies) Ginsberg.

Born in Beverly, Mass., he was a son of the late Isadore and Lena (Fladger) Ginsberg. He moved to Rumford over 40 years ago. He was a 1950 graduate of Bryant College.

Mr. Ginsberg served in the Army as a lieutenant during the Korean War. He performed in several productions with the Pawtucket Community Players and was involved with several theater groups for many years. He was the founder and proprietor of H.G. Sales Co., in Rumford. He was a past president and former member of the Pawtucket Kiwanis Club. He was a member of Barney Merry Masonic Lodge, and Temple Beth-El.

Besides his wife, he leaves a daughter, Brenda Kluk of Narragansett; a son, Dr. Lawrence T. Ginsberg of Barrington; three sisters, Charlotte Goldman of Swampscott, Mass., and Irene Jacobs and Helen Bloom, both of Beverly, Mass., and five grandchildren. He was a brother of the late Richard S. Ginsberg.

The funeral will be held today at 2 p.m. in Mount Sinai Memorial Chapel, 825 Hope St. at Fourth Street, Providence. Burial will be in Temple Beth-El Cemetery, Providence.
