

PJB 11-30-04

EDWIN M. GOLD, M.D., 91, of One Sayles Ave., a retired physician and professor, died Sunday at Miriam Hospital.

GOLD,
EDWIN

He was the husband of Sylvia (Gold) Gold. Born in New York City, a son of the late Jacob and Rose Gold, he had lived in Pawtucket for 35 years, previously living in Berkeley, Calif., and Brooklyn, N.Y.

Dr. Gold had been the reproductive health services and attending ob/gyn physician at Women & Infants Hospital. He served on the emeritus staff, and also chaired the hospital's Medical Care Evaluation Committee.

In 1981, he was named professor emeritus of obstetrics and gynecology and community medicine at Brown University. He was the recipient of the 1982 Martha May Eliot Award.

He began his career in 1948 as senior obstetrical consultant with the New York City Health Department. His career included several professorships. He moved west in 1968 to teach maternal and child health at the University of California School of Public Health in Berkeley.

He belonged to many professional societies, and was a founding fellow of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.

Dr. Gold was a graduate of New York University and Long Island College of Medicine.

Besides his wife, he leaves a son, Stephen Gold of Poway, Calif.; a daughter, Toni Gold of Marina del Rey, Calif.; and three grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. at his residence.

The memorial service for Dr. EDWIN M. GOLD, 91, of One Sayles Avenue, Pawtucket, a Brown University professor emeritus and retired physician, who died Sunday at Miriam Hospital, in Providence, will be held today at 11 a.m., at his residence. The date of the service was incorrect in yesterday's obituary.