GOLDBERG,
Burton L.

PJ- B. 10-9-192

Burton L. Goldberg

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Burton L. Goldberg, 69, of Las Vegas, who owned the former Burton Textiles, Providence, died yesterday at the Nathan Adleson Hospice Center. He was the husband of Elaine (Kushner) Goldberg.

Born in Providence, a son of the late Herman and Agnes (Reingold) Goldberg, he moved to California in the 1960s.

Mr. Goldberg also worked for the La Salle Company before retiring. He was a former member of the Shriners in Rhode Island. He was an Army Air Forces veteran of World War II.

He leaves two daughters, Lonnie Beattie of Providence, and Billi-Robin Mastroluca of Las Vegas; a son, Harlan P. Goldberg of Cranston; a sister, Eleanor Leach of Las Vegas, and a granddaughter.

The funeral service will be held today in Las Vegas.