
NARRAGANSETT

GOLDBLATT, DOROTHY SEGOOL, died in Woodbury, NY on March 3, 2013 following a brief illness.

The daughter of Matthew E. and Jeanette
(Goldstein)
Segool, Dorothy was born on January 10, 1924 in Boston, MA.
As a child,

Dorothy moved to Providence, RI.
Following her graduation from Hope High School in 1942 she enrolled in Pembroke College. Because of the war, she was in an accelerated program and graduated with honors in 1944. Brown University remained an important part of her life.

Dorothy married Burton D.
Goldblatt in August of 1945 and they remained together until his death in 2007. Theirs was a strong and devoted marriage. Following the war, they moved to Pawtucket, RI where they resided for eighteen years. Burt & Dot then resided in Barrington, RI for many years following which they lived for varying periods of time in Providence, East Providence and Narragansett, RI.

In 1959, Dorothy went to work as a social worker for the State of Rhode Island. Over a thirty year career, "Dotty" Goldblatt distinguished herself first with her many years with their RI Department of Child Welfare and followed by her

GOLDBLATT, DOROTHY