

GOLDEN,
David M.

Providence

PJ 12-29-1998

DAVID M. GOLDEN, 52, of Chappaqua, N.Y., director of American fashion and retail advertising at the New Yorker magazine, died yesterday at home. He was the husband of Lee Golden.

Born in Providence, he was a son of Lillian Golden of Providence.

Mr. Golden had a career in magazine advertising for 20 years. He held senior sales and management positions at CQ, Vanity Fair, Departures and the New Yorker.

He was a 1968 graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, with a bachelor of arts degree in English. He served as an English teacher in the Peace Corps in Ethiopia. He worked in book publishing and retail fashion before moving into magazine advertising.

Besides his wife and mother, he leaves two sons, Sam Golden and Matt

Golden, both of Chappaqua, and a sister, Carol Golden Einhorn of Providence.

A service will be held today at 9:30 a.m. in Clark Associates Funeral Home, Katonah, N.Y. Burial will be take place at 2 p.m. in Temple Beth-El Cemetery, Providence. ✓