The Providence Journal
DEC 1 1 1952

David S. Goldman, Ex-Printer, Dies

David S. Goldman, compositor for the Providence Journal Company for 35 years before his retirement Nov. 1, died suddenly yesterday at his home, 41 Ontario Street, after a heart attack. He was 65.

Mr. Goldman was a former vice president of the Providence Typographical Union, a member of its executive committee for several years and vice chairman of the union's Providence Journal chapel.

He was formerly a delegate to the international union's convention in Charleston, S.C.; to the union's New England district convention in Hartford, and to the Rhode Island State Branch, AFL convention.

Born Aug. 15, 1887, in Uman, Russia, a son of Samuel and Pessy (Kortick) Goldman, he came to this country as a boy and here learned the printer's trade which he was to follow the rest of his life. He entered the employ of the Providence Journal Company on Sept. 10, 1917, and throughout his employment worked nights.

Besides holding membership in the International Typographical Union, he was a lifelong member of Workmen's Circle, Branch 14. During World War II, he was a member of the U. S. Coast Guard temporary reserve.

Mr. Goldman leaves his wife, Mrs. Rose (Eisenberg) Goldman; two daughters, Mrs. Beatrice Feldman of Providence and Mrs. Sylvia Lack of Newport; two grandchildren, Andrea Mae Feldman and Sanford Louis Lack; four sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Faber of Providence, Mrs. Ethel Jagolinzer of Cranston, Mrs. Sylvia Faber of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mrs. Ann Sonion of Woburn, Mass., and a brother, Irving Goldman of Charleston, W. Va. A second brother, Harry Goldman, was killed in an automobile accident in Detroit in October.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. at the Max Sugarman Funeral Home, 458 Hope Street. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

GOLDMAN—Suddenly on Dec. 10, David S., husband of Rose (Eisenberg) Goldman, 41 Ontario Street. Funeral services, to which relatives and friends are invited, will be held at the Max Sugarman Funeral Home, 458 Hope Street, at Doyle Avenue, Friday, Dec. 12th at 11 a.m. Calling hours Thursday, 7-9 p.m.

GOLDMAN
DAVID S.