Isreal Goldstein, Woonsocket Firm Head, Dies

Isreal Goldstein, 52, of 236 Woodland Rd., Woonsocket, died yesterday after a short illness. He was the husband of Etta (Halpern) Goldstein.

Born June 20, 1906, in Providence, the son of the late Lewis Goldstein, and of Rose (Rosenblatt) Goldstein, now of Miami, Mr. Goldstein was president of Mark Steven, Inc. and at one time was president of the United Paper Co.

He was a director, co-chairman, and captain of the United Jewish Appeal of Woonsocket, and was a charter member of Franklin Lions Club. Mr. Goldstein was also a member and director of Congregation B'nai Israel, a member of Congregation Jacob, of the Hebrew Free Loan Society and of the Jewish Home for the Aged in Providence. He also belonged to the Woonsocket Lodge of the Elks Club, and to the Franklin Country Club.

Besides his wife and mother, he is survived by four sons: Larry L., Stanley S., Jason L., and Sidney S., all of Woonsocket; a brother, Abraham E., of Pawtucket; and four grandchildren.

The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 11 at Congregation B'nai Israel. Burial will be in Congregation B'nai Israel Cemetery. Memorial week will be observed at the home.

Goldstein Will Leaves Three Trusts for Family

The will of Israel Goldstein, president of Mark Steven Inc. at 50 E. School St., Woonsocket, who died Feb. 18, was admitted yesterday by Woonsocket Probate Court.

The personal assets were estimated at more than $200,000.

One of the trusts set up by the six-page will is for the benefit of the widow, Mrs. Etta (Halpern) Goldstein; another, in the amount of $10,000, is for Mr. Goldberg's mother, Mrs. Rose Goldstein of Miami, Fla. A third trust comprising the remainder of the estate, is for the widow and four children, Larry L., Sidney S., Stanley P. and Jason L. Goldstein, all of Woonsocket.

The trusts will end upon the death of Mrs. Goldstein. Then a residuary trust will divide the estate equally among the four children.

Besides receiving the income from the trust fund in her favor, Mrs. Goldstein was bequeathed all the real estate and tangible personal property.

Judge Irving I. Zimmerman appointed the widow, the eldest son and Sidney Silverstein, counsel for the estate, executors of the will and a codicil, under $600,000 bond. Raymond F. Murphy was named the appraiser.
