The Evening Bulletin, Tuesday, September 13, 1977

OBITUARIES

Joseph M. Goldstein

CRANSTON — Joseph M. Goldstein, 67, of 126 Dellwood Rd., died yesterday in Rhode Island Hospital shortly after admittance. He was the husband of Sarah (Gordon) Goldstein.

Mr. Goldstein was a plumbing and heating contractor before he retired. He was a member of Temple Beth Am, a former member of Temple Emanu-El, and a former vice president of Congregation Ahavath Sholam, Providence.

He also was a 32nd degree Mason and a member of E. L. Freeman Lodge, Pawtucket.

Born in Russia Aug. 25, 1910, a son of the late Harry and Rose (Charnock) Goldstein, he formerly lived in Providence for 19 years, and moved to Cranston in 1963.

Besides his wife, survivors are a son, Gerald J. Goldstein of Cranston; four daughters, Mrs. Rhea Skolnik of Barrington, Mrs. Harriet Kotchen of Cranston, Miss Linda Goldstein of Framingham, Mass., and Miss Barbara Goldstein of Cranston; two brothers, Jack and William Goldstein, both of Cranston; two sisters, Mrs. Lillian Chorney of Barrington and Mrs. Pearl Phillips of Cranston, and two grandchildren.

A funeral service will be held Thursday in Providence at 1 p.m. in the Sugarman Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope St. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

GOLDSTEIN, JOSEPH M.