CRANSTON

GOODMAN, ELLIOT RAYMOND, 82, of 45 Amherst Road, Cranston, a political scientist and educator, died November 27, 2005 at Rhode Island Hospital. He was the husband of Norma (Bromberg) Goodman.

Born in Indianapolis, a son of the late Lazure L. and Esther (Miller) Goodman, he was a resident of Rhode Island for 50 years.

Professor Goodman received his A.B. degree from Dartmouth College, and his M.A. in International Relations and a Certificate from the Russian Institute, and his Ph.D. from Columbia University. He was a Guggenheim Fellow and a NATO Research Fellow from 1962-1963 in Paris, France.

He began teaching at Brown University in 1955, first as a Ford Teaching Intern, becoming a Full Professor in 1970, and retiring in 1987. While at Brown, he published The Soviet Design for a World State and The Fate of the Atlantic Community, as well as numerous articles in scholarly journals.

His interests included photography, classical music, particularly Mozart, sailing and gardening.

Besides his wife, he leaves one daughter; Laura Humphrey of Portsmouth, RI, two sons; Jordan Goodman of Scarsdale, NY and Roger Goodman of Kirkland, WA, and four grandchildren; Graham, Leah, Jason and Vivian. He was the brother of the late Suellen Goodman.

The funeral service will be held Tuesday, November 29th at 10:00 AM at SUGARMAN-SINAI MEMORIAL CHAPEL, 458 Hope St., Providence with burial in Mosswood Cemetery, Cotuit, Town of Barnstable, MA. In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to Dartmouth College Class of 1945, c/o John Osborn, 23 Shire Oaks Dr., Pittsford, NY 14534. Shiva will be observed at his late residence on Wednesday and Thursday 4-8 PM.
