GREBSTEIN, Phyllis S.

PS.A 8-6-1996

PHYLLIS S. GREBSTEIN, 64, of Tarrytown, N.Y., a sculptor, died Sunday in Phelps Memorial Hospital, Tarrytown. She was the wife of Sheldon Grebstein.

Born in Providence, a daughter of the late Louis and Lillian (Lisagore) Strumar, she had been a resident of Providence, Lexington, Ky., Tampa, Fla. and Binghamton, N.Y. before moving to Westchester County in 1981.

Mrs. Grebstein attended Hope High School, and was a summa cum laude graduate of Manhattanville College in 1986. She studied at SUNY, Binghamton, and served as a hostess for many SUNY Purchase hospitality events on behalf of campus advancement during her husband's term of office as college president. She was affiliated with the Art Life Studio in Port Chester, and exhibited her artwork in regional shows, winning several prizes.

Besides her husband, she leaves two sons, Jason Grebstein of Franklin, Mass., and Gary Grebstein of Valhalla, N.Y.; three brothers, Albert Strumar of Owings Mills, Md., Ronald Strumar and Harry Strumar, both of Providence; a sister, Annette Toland of Cape Cod; and a grandchild.

The funeral service was private.
