10-8-95 PJB

GROSSMAN,
Dr. Martha

Providence

DR. MARTHA GROSSMAN, M.D., 97, formerly of Blackstone Boulevard, died Monday at the Kent Nursing Home in Warwick. She was the widow of Ernest Grossman.

Born in Vienna, Austria, a daughter of the late Adolph and Regina (Mire) Lowenstein, she came to this country with her family in 1939.

Dr. Grossman received her medical degree from the University of Vienna in 1922, and practiced dentistry in Austria until her emigration to America at the start of World War II. She received a master's degree in social work from Case Western Reserve University in 1943 and practiced clinical social work in several cities until her retirement in her early 70s, when she moved to Providence.

During her career, she served as casework supervisor for the Family Service Society in Philadelphia. At the time of her retirement, she was a part-time social worker for Mount Sinai Hospital in New York.

She leaves a daughter, Hedy Cooper of Providence, and two granddaughters. She was the mother of the late William A. Ross.

The funeral was private.