HARMAN, CAROL

Carole Moses Harman

PROVIDENCE, R.I. – Carole Moses Harman died Nov. 11. She was a gentle and loving woman who loved beautiful things. She is survived by her loving partner and friend for many years, Debbie DeCarlo.

Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., and raised in Manchester Conn., she was the daughter of the late Mae (Schneider) and Nathan Moses. She came to Providence to attend and graduate from R.I.S.D in 1965 with a B.A. and an M.A. in 1969. In 2003, Carole was awarded an Honorary Doctorate in Pedagogy from RIC.

She taught art in Providence for 33 years at Hope High School and Central High School. After retiring, Carole began teaching, mentoring and supervising future art teachers.

In 1993, Carol was the recipient of the A. Milken Award and was cited as the RI Art Teacher of the Year.

Carole was an artist and longtime member of the Providence Art Club. She was a painter, pencil drawer and weaver. She loved all things creative and had numerous art exhibits over the years.

She was a gourmet cook and traveler, liked to spend time exploring, eating and entertaining with friends.

Over the years Carole served on many committees and boards, including RISD Alumni, RISD Board of Trustees, Founder of the Citywide Arts, New Urban Arts and RI Art Teachers Association.

Contributions may be made in Carole's name to New Urban Arts, 705 Westminster St., Providence, R.I.
