Providence Journal-Bulletin, Saturday, December 24, 1983

HAZEN, BENJAMIN

Benjamin Hazen

CRANSTON — Benjamin Hazen, 66, of 90 High School Ave., a former teacher in Bristol and then production manager for a Fall River company until retiring, died yesterday at Miriam Hospital, Providence. He was the husband of Muriel (Grossman) Hazen.

Born in Fall River, he was a son of the late Morris Hazen and Ida (Litwak) Hazen Goldenberg. He was a Bristol resident until moving here in 1960.

He taught history and social studies in Bristol schools from 1938 to 1950, and formerly served on the Bristol School Committee. Then, until retiring in 1981, he was with the Whittenton Garment Co.

Mr. Hazen was on the board of directors of Temple Sinai here, and was a past president of it and of United Brothers Synagogue, Bristol. He was a member of the Bureau of Jewish Education, the Rhode Island Jewish Federation, St. Albans Lodge No.6, AF & AM, and the Cranston, Barrington and Bristol YMCAs.

A 1937 graduate of Rhode Island College, he was co-captain of the basketball team that year, and a member of the Alumni Association.

Besides his wife, Mr. Hazen leaves four daughters, Suzanne Cohn of New York City, Sandra Hazen of Washington, D.C., Roberta Aaronson of Providence and Deborah Hazen of Boston; a sister, Esther Alter of Providence, and three grandchildren.

A funeral service will be held Monday at 11 a.m. at Temple Sinai, Hagan Avenue. Burial will be in Sinai Memorial Park, Warwick.