4-26-09

HODOSH, MILTON

The Providence Sunday Journal

PROVIDENCE

HODOSH, MILTON DMD, 83, of 2 Harian Road, succumbed to pancreatic cancer on Saturday at his home with his family by his side. He was a practicing dentist, researcher, inventor and scholar. Milton touched a great many people throughout his life. He was a loving, caring, kind and humble husband, father, grandfather and friend.

Milton was the beloved husband for the past 56 years of Jacqueline Cohen Hodosh. He was the son of the late Samuel and Eva Hodosh. He is survived by, Dr. Steven Hodosh of Barrington, Gail Hodosh Gibbs and her husband Randall of Houston, TX and Dr. Alex Hodosh and his wife Cornelia of Jamestown. He is also survived by four cherished grandchildren; Cameron, Ainsley, Sarah and Benjamin. Milton was the youngest of five children; Ruth Abramson of Newport, David Hodosh of Providence, Isabel David of Pennsylvania, and the late Mildred Colitz.

Milton was a graduate of Brown University Class of 1950. Dr. Hodosh received his dental degree from the Tufts School of Dental Medicine. He was a prominent practitioner of dentistry in RI for over 50 years. Throughout his professional life he served on numerous National, Regional and State boards including the National Dental Examination. Dr. Hodosh held