Harriet Holland

Member of women's panel dies

PAWTUCKET — Harriet (Sobel) Holland, 45, of 16 Leicester Way, and Mumford Road, Narragansett, a member of the Governor's Permanent Advisory Commission on the Status of women in a variety of civic and religious organizations, died yesterday after a long illness.

She was the wife of Marvin S. Holland, president of E. Rosen Co. and the American Chemical Works and chairman of the Howard Development Corp., which is creating an industrial park on state land in Cranston.

Mrs. Holland was a supporter of former Gov. Frank Licht in his successful campaigns in 1968 and 1970. She was appointed in 1970 to the original women's commission by Licht and reappointed in 1975 by Governor Noel.

She was chairman of a subcommittee working to encourage women to run for political office and to win appointment to other governmental boards.

She was also a member of the festival committee of the Rhode Island Bicentennial Commission and a former lecturer for children's groups at the Rhode Island School of Design museum.

In 1972, she assisted the public relations director of the United Way campaign and was Heart Fund Sunday chairman in Providence and Pawtucket chairman of the American Cancer Society's Rhode Island crusade.

She was also a member of Temple Emanu-El of Providence, the Jewish Federation of Rhode Island, B'nai Brith and the Jewish Home for the Aged.

She attended Ithaca College and Brooklyn College and studied at the Art Students' League in New York City.

Mrs. Holland was born in New York City on March 29, 1930, a daughter of Jeannette and the late Jack Sobel. Her mother now lives in Hollywood, Fla.

Besides her husband and mother, she is survived by a sister, Barbara Goldfarb of Malvern, N.Y.; a son, Bruce Holland, a student at Suffolk University Law School in Boston, and a daughter, Deborah Holland, a student at Berklee College of Music, also in Boston.

Her funeral will be held at Temple Emanu-El, 99 Taft Ave., at noon today. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.
