ISRAEL,
Ida

PSJ Woonsocket 11-19-2000

IDA ISRAEL, of Baldwinville, Mass., a homemaker, died at The Hayward Hospital in Gardner, Mass., yesterday.

She was the wife of the late Dr. Cyril Israel. Born on July 15, 1903, in Concord, Mass., she was the daughter of the late Celia (Barg) and Samuel Jacobs.

Mrs. Israel was a school teacher in East Douglas, Mass., for five years before her marriage in 1926, when she became a homemaker.

A Woonsocket resident from 1934 to 1997, she was an active member of Congregation B'Nai Israel in Woonsocket, and Haddasah and its Sisterhood. She was instrumental in developing an activity center at the synagogue, as well as its library. She was the former area chairman of Brandeis Book Fund.

She leaves two sons, Dr. Edward Israel of Holbrook, N.Y., and Sanford Israel of Rockville, Md.; a daughter, Barbara (Israel) Clayman of Gardner, Mass.; two sisters, Sadie Sherman of Harwich, Mass., and Dorothy Platt of Richmond, Va.; six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. She was the sister of the late Hyman Jacobs and the late Dr. Harry Jacobs.

A service will be held today at noon in Congregation B'nai Israel Cemetery, Woonsocket. Burial will be in B'Nai Israel Cemetery.