LEAH JOEL

LONG ISLAND, N.Y. — Leah Joel, 90, of Merrick, died Friday, January 24, 1992, at South Nassau Community Hospital. She was the wife of the late Joel Joel.

Born in New York City, the daughter of Max and Lena Meyer, she had lived in New York most of her life.

She leaves two sons, M. William Joel of Merrick, with whom she made her home, and Joseph A. Joel of Cranston, R.I., and three daughters, Frances Liebling of Palm Harbor, Florida; Bette Pesacov of West Palm Beach, Florida, and Marilyn Schonfield of Seaford, Long Island; and a sister, Goldie Brooks of Portland, Maine.

She was the mother of the late Jack Joel. She is survived by twenty-one grandchildren and twenty-four great-grandchildren.

Burial was in the Veterans National Cemetery at Pinelawn, Long Island.

RI Jew Hist. 2-6-92

JOEL, Leah