Harry Kaminsky

PROVIDENCE — Harry Kaminsky, 87, of the Jewish Home for the Aged, 99 Hillside Ave., founder of the What Cheer Roofing Co., died Saturday at the home. He was the husband of the late Fannie (Yanku) Kaminsky.

Born in Russia, a son of the late Max and Freda Kaminsky, he lived in Providence since he was 23 years old.

Mr. Kaminsky was in business for 50 years before retiring 11 years ago. He was a member of the Golden Agers Club of the Jewish Community Center.

He leaves a daughter, Esther Goldstein of Cranston; eight grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

A private graveside service was held yesterday. PJB 6-3-86

Kaminsky
Harry