Joseph H. Kolodney, 70; dentist in city for more than 35 years

PROVIDENCE — Dr. Joseph H. Kolodney, 70, of 380 Smith St. and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., a dentist in this city for more than 35 years, died yesterday at home. He was the husband of Rose (Kagan) Kolodney.

A consulting dentist at the Ladd School, he formerly was on the staff at the Emma-Pendleton-Bradley Hospital.

Dr. Kolodney was elected to membership in the British Royal Society of Health, a worldwide society, with headquarters on Buckingham Palace Road, London.

He was a member of Temple Emanu-El and its Men's Club; the Rhode Island Dental Society, the Critereons, and Redwood Lodge 35, AF & AM. He was a member of Alpha Omega, the American Dental Association, the Jewish Home For the Aged and the Jewish Community Center. He was past president of the Smithhill Businessmen's Association and a board member of Progress for Providence.

He was a graduate of Loyola University School of Dentistry and Rhode Island College School of Pharmacy.

Born in Chelsea, Mass., he was a son of the late William and Gussie (Steinberg) Kolodney.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Beth Sarat of Providence; two brothers, Harry K. Kolodney and Samuel J. Kolodney, both of Pawtucket; a sister, Bertha Harriet of Providence, and two grandchildren.

The funeral service will be held Sunday at 1 p.m. in the Max Sugarman Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope St. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.

KOLODNEY, JOSEPH H. DR.

FEB 3-12-82