DR. LEONARD KOMROS, 80, of Oak Hill Avenue, a retired dentist, died yesterday at Rosewood Manor, Providence.

He was the husband of Adabelle (Berick) Komros. Born in Providence, a son of the late Hyman and Rose (Fish) Komros, he had lived in Pawtucket since 1966.

A 1940 graduate of Hope High School, he attended Providence College and graduated from the University of Maryland Dental School in 1943.

Dr. Komros had been a dentist in private practice for 51 years, until retiring in 1996. He was a life member of the American, Rhode Island and Pawtucket Dental Associations.

An Army veteran of World War II, and an Air Force veteran of the Korean War, he served as an officer in the dental service. He was a member of the Jewish War Veterans.

Dr. Komros was a member of Congregation Ohawe Sholam, in Pawtucket, where he served on the board of directors, and a member of Temple Emanu-El, in Providence. He also was a member of the Touro Fraternal Association, the Hebrew Free Loan Association, and B'nai Brith.

Besides his wife, he leaves a son, Robert Martin Komros of Providence; a brother, Dr. Jacob Komros of Pawtucket, and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral service will be held today at 11 a.m. in the Sugarman-Sinai Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope St., Providence. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.
