KRASNOFF, NANCY GAIL

NORTH PROVIDENCE

KRASNOFF, NANCY GAIL
74, died on Tuesday, May 13th after a long battle with cancer. Although often beset by illness she did not let it define her, graduating from secretarial school, getting together with friends, and working as a volunteer in the East Providence school system.

She was a rabid Red Sox fan and was devoted to her dog, Munchkin. Nancy had an unbelievably loyal group of friends with whom she stayed in touch until her final days.

Survivors include a sister, Judith; two nieces Robin (Arnie) and Karen (Dale); and two grandnieces Rachel and Jinny Pollinger.

Nancy was lucky to have some wonderful caregivers: Dorothy, Phyllis, Terry, and Sis.

We all shall miss her and remember her fondly.

A graveside service will be held Friday May. 16th at 1PM in Sons of Israel and David Cemetery, 401 Reservoir Ave., Providence. In lieu of flowers contributions in her memory may be made to The American Cancer Society, 931 Jefferson Blvd Suite 3004, Warwick, RI 02886. Shiva will be private. For information and condolences,
