Dr. H.P. Lesselbaum; chief of radiology at Miriam Hospital

WARREN — Dr. Harvey P. Lesselbaum, 68, of Bagy-Wrinkle Cove, chief of radiology at Miriam Hospital from 1954 to 1978, died yesterday at the hospital after being stricken at home. He was the husband of Sybil (Blackman) Lesselbaum.

A graduate of Trinity College, and the Medical School of Trinity College, Dublin, he joined the British Royal Navy as a surgeon in 1942, and served through the end of World War II. He was cited for distinguished service by King George VI.

Before joining Miriam Hospital, Dr. Lesselbaum was a resident physician at hospitals in Great Britain, New York and Boston.

In 1977, he was cited for distinguished medical achievements by the American College of Radiology.

He retired from Miriam in September, 1978, and at the time of his death was in private practice in Providence.

Born in New York City, he was a son of the late Molly and Samuel Lesselbaum.

Besides his wife he leaves two daughters, Sarah Lesselbaum of Nantucket and Jenny Lesselbaum of Providence; a son Max Lesselbaum, and two stepchildren, Laurence Chaset in California and Marjorie Chaset of Cambridge, Mass.

The funeral service will be private.
