ROSE LETT

PROVIDENCE — Rose Lett, 86, of Maude Street, died Nov. 9, at Miriam Hospital in Providence. She was the wife of the late William Lett.

Born in Poland, a daughter of the late Esheye and Dora (Kusnetz) Lecht, she moved to Rhode Island in 1921, and lived there most of her life until the Jewish Home for the Aged closed and she moved to Jewish Nursing Homes in nearby Massachusetts in order to continue living in a Jewish atmosphere.

She was a contributor and volunteer for Providence Hebrew Day School and the Yeshiva Achi Timimim Labovitch.

She leaves a son, Marvin Silverman of Providence, and one grandchild. She was the sister of the late David Lecht and Sam and Jack Licht.

A graveside service was held Nov. 10 in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick, R.I. The family was assisted with the arrangements by Sugarman-Sinai Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope St., Providence.
