LEVY,
Louis A.

East Providence

pg. B 10/12/1994

LOUIS A. LEVY, 81, of East Bay Manor, 1440 Wampanoag Trail, died yesterday at Rhode Island Hospital. He was the husband of the late Florence (Leibo) Levy.

Born in Boston, a son of the late Isaac and Esther (Sedoff) Levy, he lived in East Providence for five months, previously living in Smithfield, Cranston and Providence. Mr. Levy was a salesman for Hill House Clothing in Providence for 40 years, retiring seven years ago. He was a World War II Army veteran, serving in the European theater. He was instrumental in getting funding for the Veterans Cemetery in Exeter.

Mr. Levy was a member of the American Legion, the Navy League, Temple Torat Yisrael, and the Moses Michael Hays Masonic Lodge in Needham, Mass.

He is survived by a daughter, Judith Levy of Haverford, Pa.; and a sister, Shirley Nevler of Revere, Mass. He was the brother of the late Joseph Davey, Roseann Mangone and Ruth Abrams.

A graveside funeral service will be held today at 2 p.m. at Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.
