Obituaries - EB 9/4/84

Oscar A. Levy, 69; painting contractor

CRANSTON — Oscar A. Levy, 69, of 28 Crestwood Rd., died today in Miriam Hospital. He was the husband of Mrs. May (Botvin) Levy.

He was a painting contractor for 40 years until semi-retiring three years ago. He was a member of Temple Torath Yisroale and its men's club; a member of the Redwood Lodge F & A M and for many years was assistant chairman of its social committee. The Redwood Lodge awarded him its Distinguished Service Award in 1980; in 1981 its Man of the Year Award; in 1982 its Meritorious Service Award and in 1983 he was presented its Special Award.

He was a member of Hope Link 46 and in 1972 received its award for outstanding service. In 1982 he was awarded a certificate of appreciation from the Women's ORT. He was a member of the Trowel Club, and was past president of the R.I. Chapter of the Painting Decorators and Contractors of America.

He was born in Providence, a son of the late Adolph J. and Florence Levy. He lived in Cranston for 22 years.

Besides his wife he leaves a daughter, Arlene J. Seltzer of Long Island, N.Y.; a son, David J. Levy of Narragansett; a sister, Rosalie Davis of Providence; a brother, Bernard Levy of Springfield, Mass., and three grandsons.

The funeral service will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Mount Sinai Memorial Chapel, 825 Hope St., Providence. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.

LEVY, OSCAR A.