LONDON, max

2-7-1941

MAX LONDON

The funeral of Max London, store operator in Pawtuxet Valley and Providence for thirty years, who died on January 30, were conducted last Friday from his home, 196 Sharon street, with Rabbi Morris G. Silk officiating.

Mr. London was one of the founders of the Ahavath Sholom Synagogue in Arctic and one of the early Jewish settlers in the valley. He was a member of the Sons of Jacob Synagogue on Douglas avenue for the past twelve years.

His survivors include his widow, Mrs. Eva London; two sons, Henry and David J. London, a daughter, Mrs. Louis Goldman of Boston, and three grandchildren. Three brothers and one sister, all of Boston, also survive.