LOWENSTEIN, MARC CEDRIC

BARRINGTON

LOWENSTEIN, MARC CEDRIC, 74, died January 6, 2013, surrounded by family. Born in the Bronx, a son of the late Seymour and Evelyn (Weingarten) Lowenstein, and brother of the late Alida Putterman, he had been a resident of Barrington since 1972. A graduate of Lehigh and RISD, he served as a coast guard reservist and was a passionate sailor and real-life "MacGyver". Marc was a U.S. Dept. of Energy award-winning architect, designer and builder in the field of Solar Architecture who suffered a life-altering stroke in '83.

He is survived by his wife Rose-Mary (Donath) of 48 years and his children: Lisa, D. Mara and Ari Lowenstein all of NYC.

He will be remembered April 28th, place TBD. Donations may be made to SailtoPrevail.org. Condolences and info: SugarmanSinai.com.
