MAGID, SAMUEL M.

The Jewish Advocate April 23, 1964

Services for Samuel M. Magid In Brookline

Samuel M. Magid, 83, of Miami Beach Florida, former Boston and Providence industrialist and philanthropist, died recently in Florida. He retired 20 years ago as treasurer of Brier Manufacturing Co., costume jewelry manufacturing firm he founded in Providence.

Services were held at Levine Chapel, Brookline. Interment was in Adath Jeshurun Cemetery, West Roxbury.

He is survived by his wife, the former Rose Brier; a son, Irving I., of Jamaica Plain; two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Selib of Chestnut Hill and Mrs. Miriam Zakon of Newton; a brother, Harry; two sisters, Mrs. Jeannette Good of Miami and Mrs. Annie Paisner of Providence, and seven grandchildren.

Mr. Magid came to Providence from Boston in the early 1900s. He was the son of the late Michel and Minna Magid.

Active in almost every Jewish charitable and civic organization, he was a founder, chairman of the Building Committee, and first vice president of Temple Emanuel which was built in 1925. He also helped to raise the funds which resulted in the building of the present Jewish Home for the Aged on Hillside Avenue in Providence. He served as the Home's first president. He has also been an honorary trustee of Miriam Hospital for many years and he was a leader in the Zionist movement in Providence.

Memorial week is being observed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Selib of 116 Lagrange St., Chestnut Hill.

MAGID, Samuel