MARKS, Robert

PJ-B 8-4-1997

Attleboro

ROBERT MARKS, 85, of 149 North Main St., formerly of Providence, proprietor of the former Robert Marks Co., a Providence machine shop, for more than 40 years before retiring in 1988, died yesterday at Life Care Center. He was the husband of Rose (Franklin) Marks.

Born in Providence, a son of the late Joseph and Annie (Goldstein) Marks, he moved to Attleboro in 1960.

Mr. Marks was an Army veteran of World War II. He was a botanist known for having compiled a complete listing of wild flowers on Block Island. He was a member of Congregation Agudas Achim and of B'nai B'rith.

The funeral service will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. at Congregation Agudas Achim, North Main Street. Burial will be in the Hebrew Cemetery in Attleboro.