MILLMAN, Max I.

OBITUARIES

Max I. Millman; retired educator

EAST PROVIDENCE — Max I. Millman, 74, of 25 Arthur Ave., a teacher in the Providence school system for many years, and a principal of Mount Pleasant High School until retiring in 1977, died Thursday at his summer home, 95 Mohawk Drive, Coventry. He was the husband of Mollie (Kiven) Millman.

Born in Providence, a son of the late Samuel and Etta (Pollack) Millman, he lived in East Providence since 1978.

Mr. Millman also was principal of the Oliver Hazard Perry Junior High School, and the Nathan Bishop Junior High School.

He was a 1932 Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Brown University where he received a bachelor of arts degree, and a master's degree.

Mr. Millman was a member of Temple Beth El and its Brotherhood, and was a religion teacher at the temple for 40 years. He was a member of the Jewish Federation of Rhode Island, and a past co-chairman of the retired executives division. He was a member of the Jewish Home for the Aged, the Rhode Island Jewish Historical Association, the Bureau of Jewish Education, the Israel Bonds Committee, the Rhode Island Association of School Principals, and the Brown University Alumni Fund.

Besides his wife he leaves two daughters, Roberta Shine-Davis of Providence and Carol S. Franklin of Sudbury, Mass.; three sisters, Rose Freedman and Esther Rothberg, both of Warwick, Beatrice Fishbein of Providence, and six grandchildren.

A funeral service will be held tomorrow at noon at Temple Beth El, Orchard Avenue. Burial will be in Sons of Israel and David Cemetery.
