MRS. B. MOGELEVER

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROSELLE, N. J., Sept. 29—Mrs. Sarah Gibberman Mcgelever, a linguist who tutored many former Europeans in English, and mother of Louis J. Mogelever of 31 Garden Drive, a Newark newspaper man, died today in Emergency Hospital, Washington, D. C., where she underwent an operation on Saturday. She suffered a fractured hip in a fall last week. Her age was 75. Her husband was the late Bernard Mogelever.

Born in Warsaw, Poland, Mrs. Mogelever came to this country fifty years ago and formerly resided in Pawtucket, and Providence, R. I. and in Newark. In recent years she made her home in Washington with another son, Jacob H. Mogelever, an employe of the Treasury Department and former city editor of The Newark Ledger. Mrs. Mogelever read, wrote and spoke Russian, French, Polish, Lithuanian, German, Hebrew and English.

Also surviving are another son, Morris Mogelever of Asbury Park, and three daughters, Mrs. Nathan Salant of Washington, Mrs. Anne Cohen of Providence and Mrs. Sidney Reichart of Cleveland.
