The Evening Bulletin, Monday, October 6, 1980

Obituaries

Ex-legislator Harold Moskol

EAST PROVIDENCE — Harold S. Moskol, 71, a lawyer, former state legislator and assistant attorney general under J. Joseph Nugent, died yesterday at Rhode Island Hospital of injuries suffered Sept. 26 when he was struck by a van while crossing South Broadway near Warren Avenue. He was the husband of Eunice (Goldsmith) Moskol.

Mr. Moskol, a Providence Democrat who was active in a number of civic and religious organizations, served in the House from 1951 to 1953 and in the Senate from 1956 to 1962 when he was appointed to the attorney general's office as administrator of charitable trusts. He left that post in 1967.

Until his death, Mr. Moskol maintained a law office in the Industrial Bank Building in Providence. A Providence resident most of his life, he had moved in 1962 to East Providence where he resided at 36 Arthur Ave.

Mr. Moskol, a 1929 graduate of Brown University, was graduated from Harvard Law School in 1932. He was a member of the American Bar Association and the Rhode Island Bar Association.

He had been associated with the New England Board of Higher Education, the Rhode Island Conference of Social Workers and the Rhode Island Council of Community Services. In the 1950s, he served on a commission to study revising the Rhode Island Constitution.

A member of the Touro Fraternal Association and Temple Beth-El, Mr. Moskol was a director and past secretary of the Jewish Family and Children's Service. He was a trustee of the Jewish Home for the Aged.

Besides his wife, he leaves a daughter, Ann E. Moskol, an assistant professor of mathematics at Rhode Island College.

The funeral was to be held today at 1 p.m. at the Max Sugarman Funeral Home, 458 Hope St. Burial was to be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.

Moskol-
Harold