OBITUARIES

POKRAS, Donald S.

Donald Stanley Pokras

RICHARDSON, Texas — Donald Stanley Pokras, 68, of 810 Brentwood Lane, a technical services chemist for NCH Corp., Irving, Texas for 20 years before retiring, died Monday in Dallas at home. He was the husband of Cyrille B. Pokras.

Born in Providence, he was a son of the late Philip and Freda (Pliner) Pokras.

Mr. Pokras received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Rhode Island. He had completed coursework toward his master's degree in environmental science at the University of Texas at Dallas.

In Providence he had worked for the former John Scott Automobile Agency. He later was a chemist, electroplating engineer, and aeronautics engineer for Trifari Jewelers, Texas Instruments, and LTV. He was a member of the American Electroplaters Society.

He was a member of the Temple Emanu-El Brotherhood, Dallas, where he also taught religious school. He was a member of the Hillcrest Masonic Lodge, Dallas, and the Redwood Masonic Lodge, of Providence. He was an adviser for Junior Achievement.

Besides his wife he leaves a daughter, Amy S. Pokras of Williamstown, Mass.; and two sisters, Patricia Coken of Cranston and Elaine Stiegel of Boca Raton, Fla.

The funeral service will be Friday at 11 a.m. at the Lefkowitz Chapel of Temple Emanu-El, Dallas. Burial will be in Temple Emanu-El.
