PHILLIP SAYRE ROSEN, 76, of Everett Avenue, Providence, who died Aug. 26 at Rhode Island Hospital, was a probate judge for the Town of Burrillville. He also had drafted legislation for the State of Rhode Island Legislative Council for 17 years.

PHILIP SAYRE ROSEN, 76, of Everett Avenue, a prominent lawyer, died Monday at Rhode Island Hospital.

He was the husband of Linda (Katzman) Rosen. They were married for 39 years. A lifelong Providence resident, he was the son of the late Max and Nellie (Brynes) Rosen.

Mr. Rosen was legal counsel to the state Fraternal Order of Police and was instrumental in establishing collective bargaining for the Rhode Island State Police and in getting an incentive-pay plan for the police passed in the General Assembly.

He was legal counsel to two speakers of the House of Representatives in Rhode Island, Joseph Bevilacqua and John Skeffington.

He was a member of the Rhode Island Bar Association for 41 years.

A Navy veteran of World War II, he served on the Guam, earning four battle stars.

He was a graduate of the University of Rhode Island and the Boston University School of Law.

He was general manager of the Rhode Island Opera Guild, a state-financed project that brought in performers from the Metropolitan Opera in the 1960s.

He was past president of the Providence Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

He was a Mason with the Roosevelt Lodge and a former member of Temple Emanuel.

Besides his wife, he leaves two sons, Bruce G. Rosen of Boston and Michael S. Rosen of Boca Raton, Fla.; a daughter, Tracy J. Mallah of Providence; a sister, Gloria Rosenbaum of Sharon, Mass.; and a nephew. He was the brother of the late Dr. Robert Rosen.

The funeral will be held today at 2 p.m. from the Sugarman-Sinai Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope St., Providence. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.
