Obituaries

Richard D. Rosen, 39, dies of injuries from auto crash

PROVIDENCE — Richard D. Rosen, 39, of 336 Benefit St., assistant secretary and manager of corporate taxation for the Zayre Corp., Framingham, Mass., died Saturday at St. Anne's Hospital, Fall River, of injuries suffered in a highway accident on May 13 in Westport, Mass.

Mr. Rosen was the husband of Netti C. Vogel, a partner in the Providence law firm of Gunning, LaFazia and Gnys.

Vogel, who was in the car with her husband, suffered cuts and bruises in the 5 p.m. accident. The couple's daughter, Georgeann Vogel-Rosen, 3, also was in the car, but was not injured.

The accident occurred on Route 88 when their car collided with a pickup truck driven by Harold Caswell, 57, of Westport, who was not seriously injured.

Mr. Rosen was born in Chicago, a son of Ben and Bertha (Shechtman) Rosen, and had lived in Providence since 1972 when he joined the firm of Ernst & Ernst after 5 years in the Air Force, reaching the rank of captain.

Before joining the Zayre Corp. in 1981, he had been manager of corporate taxation for the Outlet Co. for three years. He was a member of the R.I. Society of CPAs.

Besides his wife, parents and daughter he leaves two brothers, Gerald Rosen of Morton Grove, Ill., and Lawrence Rosen of Glenview, Ill.

A funeral service will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Mount Sinai Memorial Chapel, 825 Hope St. Burial will be in Lincoln Park Cemetery, Warwick.

ROSEN, RICHARD D.